

Concern at Work Policy

In Summary

Any employee who has concerns about inappropriate behaviour or action that is at odds with our code of conduct can report this via the concern at work policy. This provides a route for investigation and the legal protection of the Public Interest Disclosure Act (1998).